

Trustee Training

To be most effective Trustees need to be knowledgeable

Plan, coordinate and record individual and group training to ensure all Trustees have the right skills and expertise.

Monitor Trustee knowledge and any knowledge gaps

Trusts need assurance that all of their Trustees have the relevant knowledge and skills to best manage the scheme.

eShare provides a centrally accessible workspace where schemes can hold and manage a trustee training record for each Trustee to ensure they have the right balance of skills and expertise.

"This new module will help Trustees identify their training needs and put in place and record training programs to help demonstrate compliance with the increasing TPR guidance on Trustee Knowledge and Understanding."

- Jennifer Batty, Capita Hartshead

Trustee Training gives Trustees the opportunity to regularly refresh and update skills and knowledge, as well as:

- Maintaining a register of relevant skills, expertise and experience
- Creating a structured induction process and ensure it has been followed
- Planning and recording group and individual training activities
- Publishing Trustee Training objectives
- Confirming when relevant Guidance and Reports have been read
- Creating individual development programmes and objectives
